

1. Part of the profits, including all tips, were transferred to the good cause of supporting the Ukrainian refugees . We also employ Ukrainians who were forced to leave their homeland as a result of the war.
2. BBC has always been our most cherished “customer”, not for the quantities of beer intakes but rather the support it has given to us directly or through members. Elephant Belgian Pub has gained a trademark of excellence among beer connoisseurs also thanks to BBC’s continuous support.
3. Far from suggesting that there might be anything which current or previous management may have missed , if given the opportunity to rule for one day, I would issues a decree that the members must drink more of worlds best brews - if not because it is healthy , it certainly is patriotic! 😎
